MONTHLY PAYROLL JUMPS TO $207,000

MINERS EMPLOYED IN NEVADA COUNTY NOW TOTAL OVER 1600

The monthly payroll of the mines in Nevada county has advanced since the last issue of the Nevada City Nugget's mining development issue of June from $192,000 on June 23, to $207,000 today. This increase is mainly due to the increase in working forces in five or six of the larger mines, but is also due in part to the re-opening of several old properties during the past month.

If gravel mines had, in every instance, been able to obtain adequate water supplies ,the total for the month just past would have been considerably larger. As it is several of these properties have closed down for the season.

One hundred more men are at work in the various mines than were employed a month ago, the total now being 1,629. This only includes those properties from which the Nugget representatives have been able to obtain a report. There are many smaller properties with from one to a half dozen men employed from which no authentic report has been obtainable.

Among the properties which have been added to the list since the table was complied last month are the Eagle Bird at Washington, the Golden Gate near Grass Valley, the Cyclone near North Bloomfield, and the Delhi near Columbia Hill.

Observers of the progress now being in the mining industry all along the Mother Lode believe that the coming month will witness a big increase in mining development and employment ,a very large part of which will be centered in this county.

There is growing confidence among gold mining investors and operators that the present embargo on gold will be lifted sufficiently to permit shipping new gold into the world markets, or that other adjustments in the present monetary system will be made to accomplish the same result, namely to put gold at a world market value. Action along this line is expected within a few weeks.

If this is done it is confidently believed this section may look for the greatest mining developments since the days of the gold rush.

From outside sources comes the report than many mine operators are anticipating this advance in the price of gold and are witholding or reducing shipments of bullion, while prosecuting development work with renewed energy. The fact that several of the larger mines have added to their working forces would at least indicate that development is being vigorously advanced.

Owing to the fact that Nevada County is regarded as one of the "white spots" on the map of the United States, a large number of unemployed men is being attracted here. While approximately 1500 men are steadily employed in Nevada County mines, there are hundreds of "rustlers" daily applying for employment at the mines who have absolutely no chance in the world for a job. This is a warning to those who have no means of subsistance NOT to come to Nevada County looking for employment.

GOOD SHOWINGS IN HUSSY

The Hussey mine, controlled by the West Mines Corp., and shortly to start active operations under the direction of Mr. Thomas Coan of Nevada City, is an example of the well known fact that many of the older mines in this district were closed down ,not on account of lack of ore, but on account of the fact that the values in the ore could not be recovered by metallurgical methods known at that time.

Progress in the field of gold metallurgy has remedied that condition, and the Hussey mine is now in a position to take advantage of this situation. At the bottom of the Hussey shaft, which has recently been opened up by Mr. Coan personally, assays at almost any point on the vein yield values ranging from eight to fifteen dollars to the ton. Consequently the development work is expected to be self supporting from the start, and with added depth. Mr. Coan expects to open up, what bids fair to be one of the richest mines in the district .

DEVELOPMENT WORK AT THE RAGON

Unwatering ,timbering and repair work at the Ragon shaft northwest of Nevada City is going ahead very satisfactorily, a depth of 135 feet having been reached of a total depth of 230 feet. The management of the Comstock Gold Point Mines Co., which is operating this property, is plannnig an extensive development porgram on the Merrifield vein, ore from which accounted for the major portion of the $20,000,000 ore production of the nearby Champion mines. W. E. Plank is in charge of the work at the mine.

ANCHO ERIE IN NEW HANDS

Work is going ahead satisfactorily on the expansion program at the Ancho-Erie Mines near Graniteville, which have recently been acquired by Mr. R. E. Whitcomb and associates under a lease and bond agreement with the West Mines Corporation of Nevada City, which has been operating the property through lessees. This property has been a steady producer on a small scale for some time, and the present operators believe that with a small amount of development work, they can greatly increase the output. The work is being personally directed by Mr. Whitcomb.

GOLD POINT SOON IN PRODUCTION

Three men have been at work for several weeks, repairing and retimbering the adit tunnel at the Gold Point Mine near Downieville, under the management of the Comstock Gold Point Mines Co. of Nevada City. A large tonnage of a fair grade of milling rock is available for immediate mining, and the geology of the district indicates that further development will open up at least two more ore shoots as well as blocking out more ore in those already exposed. As soon as the necessary equipment can be installed, production and development work will be pushed rapidly under the immediate direction of Mr. Douglas of the Comstock Gold Point Mines Company.

CANADA HILL PROGRESSES

The unwatering of the Canada Hill shaft, two miles east of Nevada City is rapidly nearing completion. The pumping has reached a point well below the No. 19 level and by the early part of next week, the No. 20 level, which is the bottom level, should be exposed. Lessees are commencing work on the No. 9 level, where the outlook is favorable for early shipments of milling ore. These will be handled by the Queen Lil mill of Nevada City. Work has also been started on the cleaning out of the No. 19 level preparatory to inaugurating an extensive development program. Favorable showings on several of the intermediate levels are awaiting development as soon as the shaft is completely unwatered, and the pumping equipment permanently installed. The work is being carried on by the West Mines Corporation under the direction of Mr. O. McCraney.

QUEEN LIL MILL FLOTATION

Flotation is being installed at the Queen Lil mill ,as the first step in a program of expansion. The Queen Lil mill is owned and operated by the West Mines Corporation, and is expected to handle the early production from the Canada Hill and Hussey properties operated by that corporation, and from the Ragon mine belonging to the Comstock Gold Point Mines Company, as well as handle custom work as at present. Mr. B. W. Hills is in charge of the work of installation, under the direction of General Manager O. McCraney.

EMPRESS MINE

The Empress mine at Newtown, west of Nevada City, has completed cutting a station at the 1000 foot level and sinking a 40 foot sump. They are now drifting about 60 feet back to the main ledge which they diverged from in cutting a straight shaft.

GRASS VALLEY BULLION MINES, INC.

Unwatering of the Bullion mine, which is being reopened south of Grass Valley after lying idle 26 years, was completed when the bottom of the 1500 foot shaft was reach-

TRIBUTE PAID TO MEMORY OF MRS. SHAEFFER

The Nugget respectfully extends its condolence to the editor of the Mountain Messenger, Mr. M. T. Ayers on the death of Mrs. Margaret Shaeffer, mother of Mrs. Ayers, and republishes herewith the editorial obituary appearing in that newspaper June 15. Reverence for the splendid character of this aged gentlewoman, who died as a result of an accident on the Narrow Gauge June 10, is reflected in every line of the editorial, which follows:

"In the passing of Mrs. Margaret Shaeffer, who lost her life in a railroad accident last Monday near Nevada City, another fine character of the old South has gone to her reward.

"Mrs. Shaeffer lived during those stirring Civil War days when history was in the making. Of southern aristocracy, she came from one of the South's finest families. Reared amid culture and affluence, with servants to fulfill her every wish, she proved her sterling worth and high character by bravely facing the tragedy of poverty brought about by the ravages of a cruel war. Naturally proud but with extremely high ideals, she was withal magamimous, charitable and sympathetic.

"Just as she faced bravely the consequences of the Civil War, so unflinchingly and with true Christian faith did she face a cold and unsympathetic world when left with a family of children to support upon the death of her husband many years ago.

"Mrs. Shaeffer was 88 years old. Her life was about done. She had often expressed herself ready to go when ever called. She had finished her work here and was fully prepared to go to her Maker. But it was unfortunate that this grand old lady, who was a true representative of the Old South, had to come to life's end in a violent manner."

KARL KOPP IS ILL· GOES TO HOSPITAL

Karl Kopp, kindly proprietor of the Kopp's Bakery, was taken to the Nevada City Sanitarium yesterday morning where he is under the care of a physician. He has not been well for some time, but his many friends hope for him a quick recovery.

IND. RECOVERY ACT TO PUT $100,000,000 TO WORK IN STATE

SACRAMENTO, July 20—(UP)—If California passes enabling legislation in accord with the national recovery act, the state will benefit to the extent of having $100,000,000 put into circulation in the next few months.

This is the opinion of R. C. Branion, state emergency relief administrator, expressed in a report to Governor Rolph and other members of the California public works advisory board, on his return here from Washington where he conferred with federal officials.

"Washington expects the states to assume a real large portion of the burden and to share fully in the efforts not only in relief work, but in the main objective which is to get the unemployed back to work," Mr. Branion said.

"As I see it, California must pitch wholeheartedly into this movement. The legislature should pass bills which will permit the state to assume its share of the burdens and to benefit the fullest extent from the provisions of the public works projects. With the federal government making a grant up to 30 per cent of labor and materials on accepted projects and a low rate of interest on the balance, public works can be obtained at half of what we would have paid a few years ago.

"The state and cities and counties should be placed in a position to do whatever is required of them in coordinating with the national recovery act. The president has led the way. We must follow him closely and keep in step. Other states are watching California. We must set the example."

COUNTY ASSESED VALUE LESS THAN LAST YEAR

County Assessor J .M. Hammill has reported to the board of supervisors that increases in assessed values Nevada City and Grass Valley and in five townships amount $105,730 as against losses in other townships amountnig $122,415. This leaves assessed values of the county $16,685 less than last year.

The chief loss was in the Hobart Mills railroad, which, assessed at $25,000 in 1932, was transferred from non-operative rolls to the operative during the year, and thereby became a public utility subject to state, and not county taxation.

FIRE DESTROYS R. C. FOOTE HOME GRASS VALLEY

The big home of Ronald Foote at the end of Bank street in Grass Valley caught fire shortly before noon yesterday and burned so rapidly that the entire strength of Grass Valley's fire department, both in equipment and personnel could not check it.

The fine old residence was a complete loss. The fire department directed its attention largely to preventing a spread of the flames. The house next to it caught fire, but the steady play of streams of water saved it from anything worse than a scorching. The Narrow Gauge depot roof also caught fire two or three times and the fire department saved that building from destruction.

The fire was one of the most spectacular in recent years, according to the hundreds of sectators who witnessed it.

INJURED YOUTH MAY NOT LOSE HIS ARM

The many friends of Harry Stephens, who had his right arm mangled in an auto accident last Sunday, will be pleased to learn he is making as good recovery as can be expected.

So far everything is in his favor and within a few days it is expected that Doctors Jones and Reed of the Jones Memorial staff, with Dr. Naffziger of San Francisco, will attempt to locate the nerve and tendon in the arm and unite them where severed.

If infection does not set in it will be only a short time till he will be home, it is reported.

PRESIDENT NOT BLUFFING

President Roosevelt wasn't bluffing when he outlined America's position to the World Economic Conference at London, in the opinion of California Editors.

His statements were utterly frank, they agree, and showed he had no intention of permitting this country to be diverted from its purpose to serve the convenience of Europe.

"For good or ill, the world economic conference goes on," said the Salinas Index-Journal. "Europe's little group of gold nations led by France, put on a performance similar to that of the old French king who is said to have 'marched up the hill and then marched down again.' They were going to pack up the old kit-bags and go home. They were going to emulate Greta Garbo. They had not had their own way and they were not going to play any more. President Roosevelt, after consulting the book of rules and technique of the Great American game, looked over his cards again and decided to stand pat."

"One of the reasons the London conference has not accomplished more than it has," remarked the Sacramento Union, "is because the delegates have spent too much time discussing the attitudes of rival powers and finding fault with them, rather than in setting up a constructive program of their own."

Declaring the President leaves no room for misinterpretation of his message, the Glendale News-Press adds:

"He pays his respects, or otherwise, to 'the fetishes of international bankers.' He favors concerted policies under which nations shall produce balanced budgets and live within their incomes. After this has been accomplished he will be ready to discuss the distribution of the world's gold and silver. The message has been described as a bombshell and as a bluff. It was the first beyond doubt. It was not the second at all."

"When he goes on record as saying that 'the United States of America seeks that kind of dollar which a generation hence will have the same purchase and debt paying power as the dollar we hope to attain in the near future,'" comments the Santa Ana Register, "it seems to us that he is expressing the hope of all men who are desirous of nothing but what they themselves have earned; but who in the immediate past have seen the equity of their property almost, if not entirely, wiped out, and who in the future may witness the partial destruction of the value of their mortgage."

"The stabilization of currencies is important," said the Santa Rosa Press Democrat, "and will have to be undertaken before international commerce can be brought to an entirely satisfactory basis, but the President is fully justified in refusing to go into the matter of stabilized currencies until the desired advancement of commodity prices has been accomplished in his own country."

"Ours has been the grand and generous gesture ever since the peace conference," said the Orange Daily News. "We led the way in the sacrifice of national interest for the world's good in every conference that anybody could suggest. We sought opportunities of setting a good example to the nations. We led the way but nobody followed. It is no wonder that we are becoming slightly cynical at European suggestions that it is our duty to stablize exchange."

LOOKING UP

WASHINGTON, D. C. July 20—(UP)—Those who are interested in the phrase, "the new deal," aptly coined for the Administration's activities, and I take it that includes everyone, should go to the dictionary and look up the word Parity.

A relatively new word, so far as the public is concerned, the word Parity is destined to grow more and more socially and economically significant as time rolls by. In the trezmendously large program of economic and social reconstruction into which the Administration has lunged with all the old feverish spirit of war-like days, the word Parity looms up as the new guiding star.

It's parity for agriculture, parity for industry, parity for labor, parity for employers and employees, lenders, borrowers—for society in general.

Upon that relatively new word Parity may be built a new civilization ,with new conceptions of relations between man and man, and between all strata that make up sosiety. At least, that's the way I visualize it from what I see going on in Washington.

Building that word Parity into our complex civilization, formerly characterized by a dog-eat-dog policy, in which the last dog in the economic chain always was bit the hardest, may turn out to be the biggest job ever performed.

It may be the turning point in changing human nature from a selfish, greedy, grasping, acquisitive type, to a type characterized by a spirit of service, fairness, and equal though profitable exchange relationships.

Take agriculture for example. Here's the way George Peek, Agriculture adjustment administrator applies the word parity to farming:

"There is nothing myserious about the parity principle of the farm act. It makes little difference whether prices are high or low, so long as they are reasonably related. The parity principle means a fair exchange value between agricultural and other commodities, year in and out. And it makes little or no difference ,actually, whether what you call money is gold, silver, paper, tin or buffalo chips."

That conception of parity as applied to agriculture, General Hugh Johnson, National Industrial Recovery Administrator, is pouring into American industry.

It's this Parity principle on which General Johnson, through trade codes trade agreements, and in other ways is building a new conception of industrial relationships between capital and labor, between employer and employee, between producers and consumers, between sellers and buyers.

Keep your eyes focused on that word Parity. It's not a slogan; nor a by-word; nor a flash in the pan. Carried out and put into actual practice, it's a real panecea for all the ills of modern civilization. It's the very bottom of the pyramid upon which President Roosevelt is constructing a new and better civilization.

The World Needs You

Everyone can say they have experienced some sorrow,
And that sorrow of today, will bring a blessing tomorrow;
We should not ask to be relieved from all pain.
Thru all the suffering their is always something we gain.
All grief, hardships, struggles, and strife,
We find make up the miner strains of life,
We should not rave over time or fate;
But with patience thru the coming years just wait.

For there is always the beautiful dawn,
And the stars come nightly in the sky;
Why weep over yesterday that is gone,
We still have today, and many today's and why;—
Not live it the best we know how,
To be steadfast and never waver,
But ask only God; when you want a favor,
Cease asking why you are here;
Be sweet and cheerful, and not full of fear,
For the world needs you, so just be a DEAR.

—BERTHA JOY DELLEA.

SECTION OF REDWOOD WATER MAIN BURSTS

Cary Arbogast was awarded the contract to dig trenches for 2900 feet of water main from the Canada Hill reservoir to the city distributing lines, just a little too late to forestall a big break in the old redwood pipe line that had burst once before durnig the winter time, and left this city in a precarious condition.

The old pipe line gave way over a 14 foot section and very soon emptied the reservoir. Fortunately the break occurred while there is an adequate supply of water in the Sugar Loaf and other reservoirs, enough, it is reported ,to care for any fire or other emergency.

Six men are employed in the work of digging the ditch in which the new steel main will be laid.

GRASS VALLEY PREMIER

The Grass Valley Premier mines west of Grass Valley are making steady progress in the development of the old Goforth property.

It is reported they have struck a 30 inch vein that assays $12 per ton. They have a crew of 15 men employed. E. H. McMurray is in charge of operations.

The Cryptic Message

The waether was cold when John started
On his annual trip to the west;
His undies were long, warm and cuddley—
To change them or not, which was best?
Of course it was late in the season,
But the air held a menacing chill;
"You'd freeze in your light togs," said Mollie,
"Catch cold dear, and maybe fall ill."

"I don't know," he said hesitating,
"I may find it warmer out there;
But colds get me down and deplete me,
And I must guard my health with great care."
"If you need B. V. D's.," answered Mollie,
"Just send me a telegram dear,
I'll keep them all ready for mailing,
And send them at once, never fear."

But as John started out warm and happy,
For the land of light rain and much sun,
Thermometers climbed to the top notch
As many a time they have done,
And then as the temperature mounted,
John Sweltered, and wriggled and cussed,
And as soon as the journey was finished,
To a telegraph office he rushed.

And this is the message that Mollie
Received the next morning at dawn,
From her perspiring, absentee husband,
The itching, uncomfortable John.
"Mollie,—
S. O. S.—B. V. D.—P. D. Q.—C. O, D, —JOHN."

ONE COUNTY WAS IN FAVOR OF GAS TAX DIVERSION

SACRAMENTO, July 20—(UP)—Only one county of California's 58 voted in favor of diversion of gasoline tax to the general fund. Three counties opposed the drastic Riley-Stewart tax revision program, official figures released by Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan revealed today.

San Joaquin was the lone county which voted for diversion. And that was only for diversion for the biennium of 1931-33. Paradoxically, this county by a vote of 10,510 to 10,169 voted against diversion for the biennium 1933-35.

Three bay district counties, San Francisco, San Mateo and Marin counties, were the only counties voting against the tax revision program.

Total vote on the two issues was: Tax revision—yes, 717,319; no,—440,413; gas tax diversion—yes, 335,595 ;no;—871,623.

Official count as certified to the secretary of state and later rechecked by his office force showed Nevada county's vote as follows: tax revision yes, 2,596; no, 384; gas tax revision yes, 373; no, 2,626.

Over 50 per cent of the total registered vote was cast at the June 27 special election. Jordan said 1,397,104 votes were polled out of a total registered vote of 2,582,173.

This, he said, was the largest vote ever cast in California on an individual special election. Popular issues such as prohibition, horse racing and tax revision were responsible.

Strongest opposition to the Riley Stewart program originated in the bay district. It centered in San Francisco and the bay metropolis' influence on adjoining counties was reflected in Marin and San Mateo counties.

Defeat of gas tax diversion was a foregone conclusion. But the overwhelming majority in favor of tax revision surprised even Fred Stewart member of the board of equalization and Ray Riley, state controller, who originated the plan.

SOLD FOR TAXES

Frank Steel, county tax collector, sold the lot formerly owned by the late John Cilly, to Jas. W. Johns, for $74.54, the amount of unpaid taxes and costs. The property is within the city limits of Nevada City.

GOVERNOR GIVES JOBS TO THOSE WHO CAN HELP

By THOMAS B. MALARKEY

SACRAMENTO, July 20—(UP)—There's activity on the political front these days. Most apparent, of course are Governor Rolph's efforts to build his 1934 campaign machine.

The governor may have some shortcomings, but he knows his politics. His 20-year tenure as San Francisco mayor proves that. Moreover, he is surrounded by shrewd, far-seeing advisers—mostly San Franciscans—who scrutinize his every political move with an appraising eye.

Rolph is building his machine in traditional style—namely, patronage. He has just made 16 appointments, and they were conferred with a weather eye as to political pull. On tap are 116 more, including the race horse commission, insurance commissioner, agricultural pro-rate commission and others. "Sunny Jim" will certainly consider ability but, also, he will have the November election in mind when he makes these appointments.

The governor, according to reports, is taking a leaf out of President Roosevelt's book. The president withheld patronage until congress did his bidding. Rolph plans to use certain vital appointments as leverage in certain quarters during the present mid-summer legislative session.

Democratic leaders in California are bridling under McAdoo leadership. The senator—probably voicing the president's view—would like to reward Hiram Johnson for supporting Roosevelt in 1932. Consequently he has sent word there should not be a democratic opponent of Johnson for California's senatorial toga in 1934.

There's no chance Johnson will retire. Actually, his campaign opened last spring—on the q. t., of course—when the Jesperson free primary bill was introduced. Passage would have enhanced his renomination chances at the primaries. Its defeat was the worst setback Johnson has received in years .

Some economy minded legislators are exasperated over Director of Finance Vandegrift's conception of a state emergency. The legislature abolished appropriations for the bureau of commerce and for the salary of the chief of division of service and supply. Simon Lubin, chief of the former and Fred Meyer, head of the latter have been drawing their salaries out of the state emergency fund since July 1.

Practical minded politicians who know the workings of the average legislator's mind, predict the midsummer session will be short and sweet. They are not swayed from their conviction by the monumental legislative problems piling up. They know the combination of hot summer days and no pay will impel lawmakers to get out at the earliest possible moment. Ten days seems to be the average forecast.

It apears the governor has decided to appoint his old San Francisco political henchman, Dan O'Brien, on the important California Horse Racing commission. Already a howl is going up. Said one paper: "There are at least 20 horse breeders who would fill this position satisfactorily; and certainly any one of them will be better qualified than the ex-police chief."

Mrs. Kathleen Michael, Los Angeles, is after the job of Rheba Crawford Splivalo, evangelist director of the department of social welfare. Mrs. Michael and Mrs. Splivalo have fought fought it out for the appointment after Rolph's inauguration. Rheba barely won out. Press reports of Mrs. Splivalo's possible resignation, have inspired Mrs. Michael to renewed activity.

STATE INSURANCE MAN INSPECTS MINES HERE

Oscar Glaeser, wo is with the State Compensation Insurance Company, as safety engineer for mines, was inspecting mines in this territory this week, and called on Assayer Don Carlos Billick of Nevada City. They worked together in the Kennecott Copper Corporation in Alaska, until Mr. Billick enlisted in the army during the World War. This was their first meeting since that time.

Mrs. Lloyd Root and son and daughter of San Francisco are spending a three week's vacation in Grass Valley. Her husband is interested in the California Consolidated Mines in the Willow Valley district east of Nevada City.

Put Your Liver To Work--Make This Test

You can't feel well and strong unless your liver furnishes your stomach and bowels plenty of fresh bile every day. Without bile food doesn't digest properly—it just ferments and decays—constipation, gas, sour stomach, headaches and nervousness follow.

Don't be misled. Calomel, salts, oils, mineral waters, laxative pills, etc., have no effect whatever on the liver. There are only two generally recognized substances which actually cause a sluggish liver to increase its production of bile. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain both of them.

Unless you have tried Sargon Soft Mass Pills you can have no idea of their effect—you feel stronger, healthier, happier—life and color return to faded eyes and checks—appetite and digestion improve rapidly.

Only 60c for a full 30-day treatment. At your druggist, or write G. F. Willis, Inc., Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

The Tahoe Chapter, No. 9 the Knights of Dunamis erected a new flag pole in front of the lodge. It was dedicated to Camp Sunday with a brief ceremony by Melsville Johns present Commander of the Knights.

CONTRACTORS OF COUNTY TO MEET TUESDAY NIGHT

A contractors' meeting will be held at the Memorial Building, Grass Valley, Tuesday evening at 8:00 p. m., July 25. All contractors of Placer and Nevada counties, and others interested, are cordially invited.

The purpose of this meeting is to provide an opportunity for the State Registrar of Contractor's Carlos W. Huntington, to explain the new contractor's license law as a matter of service and protection to licentiates and to the public.

The three-fold purpose of the meeting is to discuss the contractors' license law, the compensation act as it relates to State Licensees, and to discuss the operations of the Federal Industrial Recovery Act as it will probably apply to contracting by enforcement of a code of ethics.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS AND ADOPTS BUDGET

The board of school directors met Wednesday evening and formally adopted the budgets for the Nevada City elementary and high schools. No protests were made though a delegation of Oakland school district resident were president to protest any item in the budgets that might affect them. Austin, county superintendent of schools, will apportion these sums among the schools.

Mrs. Will Walters and little grand daugter, Beverley, of San Francisco are spending their vacation with Mrs. Walters brother, James Dolan, and wife in Nevada City.

American Heroines

By LOUISE M. COMSTOCK

Jane McCrea

OF ALL the women who have in one way or another influenced the destinies of nations, none, perhaps, did so more truly, or with less recognition by later historians than Jane McCrea, whose death in 1777 proved the turning point of the American revolution.

In the late spring of that year Gen. John Burgoyne with an army of 7,000 British and Hessians and a large number of Canadian and Indian allies invaded New York from the north by way of Lake Champlain. He won easy victories at Ticonderoga, Crown Point and Fort Edward, forcing the main Colonial army under Gen. Philip Schuyler to retreat southward. At Albany he was to meet Sir William Howe advancing north by the Hudson from New York city, thus completing a barrier between New England and the rest of the colonies.

Near Fort Edward, in the cabin of a Mrs. McNeill, a handsome girl of twenty-three, was dressing in wedding finery. She had no suspicion of danger; Mrs. McNeill was cousin to Brigadier General Fraser of Burgoyne's army, and the lover whom she was preparing to marry was also an officer in the loyalist troops.

But Jane McCrea had not counted on the ferocity and lawlessness of Burgoyne's Indian allies. Having attacked a picket guard of Americans, killing their commander and taking one prisoner, they swooped down upon the McNeill cabin and dragged out the two women. Jane they seated on a horse. Mrs. McNeill proved to be too bulky to be thus manipulated, and they contented themselves with striping her to a single garment, and thus later handed her over to the astonished brigadier general.

Just why Jane McCrea was killed nobody knows. But is certain that somewhere between the cabin and fort she was shot, scalped, and her body brutally mutilated. The scalp, with the lovely long dark hair that was his pride and joy, later came to the hands of her waiting lover. And it is also certain that this deed, proving to luke warm patriots that the British commander was either afraid or only half willing to restrain the atrocities of his Indian mercenaries, roused a storm of feeling throughout the colonies. "Remember Jane McCrea," became a rallying cry under which the morale of the colonists was so strengthened as to make possible their victories at Fort Schuyler, Bennington and Saratoga, thus defeating Burgoyne's well laid plans and turning the tide of the Revolution.

"WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE LIGHT IN THIS HOUSE?"

TRYING TO MAKE A 25 WATT LAMP ACT LIKE TWO SIXTIES!

HE WORKS in a well lighted office. Lighting fixtures are properly placed. Lamps of the proper wattage are used. Burned-out lamps are promptly replaced.

No wonder he gets drowsy trying to read and at an early hour is tired and ready for bed. There is not enough light or the wrong kind of light by which to read.

Empty sockets, burned-out lamps, trying to make a twenty-five watt lamp act like two sixties is bad for the disposition, the eyes, for health.

Glare is also bad for the eyes. Adequate lighting fixtures, properly shaded, give diffused light. It is restful light. It does not reflect from white paper or bright surfaces and protects the eyes.

Good light is one of the few things we live with so much that is neither expensive or hard to obtain. Year after year the cost of electric light has been reduced. How many other daily necessities cost you less than before the war? The proper use of light is so inexpensive today that every home should have all the light needed for comfort, health and safety.

YOUTH GIVES UP LIFE IN EFFORT TO SAVE FRIEND

Irving Scott Langley, the eighteen-year-old son of George Langley of Langley Park, near Camptonville, gave up his life Thursday in a brave attempt to save a comrade from drowning in the Sacramento river.

With George Livesey, a friend, young Langley was swimming. Livesey was seized with cramps and Langley went to his rescue. He battled with the drowning youth and made a desperate effort to bring him ashore.

The struggle was in vain; both youths sank. Their bodies were recovered by other boys in a very short time, but efforts made to resuscitate them proved futile.

The two boys were members of the Big Pine C. C. C. camp.

The remains were interred in the Masonic cemetery of that city.

Irving Langley was a splendid student and athlete. His character already foreshadowed the man of sterling integrity and high sense of honor. It was charteristic of him to go to the rescue of his friend. He was generous and of fine courage. His friends, and they were many, young and old, mourn his passing.

SALES TAX TO AVERAGE $5.35 PER CAPITA

SACRAMENTO, July 20—(UP)—The sales tax now pending in the state legislature will directly affect every human being within California's borders. The battle today is captured in the state assembly.

The proposed levy which exacts its toll from everybody who spend a nickel or over, will undoubtedly be passed. However there was some doubt today as to whether the rate would be two, two and one half or three percent.

Figures compiled by the state board of equalization brought home emphatically the direct effect of the tax on each citizen.

The board estimates if a two per cent sales tax is enacted, Nevada county must raise as its share $37,828 or a per caita sales tax outlay for this county of $3.57. If, however, as seems profitable, the legislature adopts a three per cent sales tax, $56,742 will be raised from this county or a per capita contribution of $5.35.

The board arrived at its figures on the basis of federal reports of retail sales in California as of 1929. It was estimated retail sales today are 55 per cent of 1929 sales. Figuring that ten per cent of sales would not be taxed because of evasions the board reached the conclusion that the sales tax would be collected on just one half the retail sales of 1929.

A two per cent sales tax, the board estimates will raise $31,787,545 annually; a three per cent tax, $47,681,317

Of course, it was pointed out, if business conditions continue to improve, the yield from the sales tax will increase in proportion. That is the reason estimates of the yield vary so much. Some are predicted on the supposition that there will not be any startling improvement; others that the state is well on the road to recovery.

Administering the sales tax it is claimed, will require an expenditure of $1,000,000 annually and the hiring of 200 additional state employes. The board of equalization will administer the tax, thus immensely increasing the power of that state agency.

This is the second of a series of excerpts from the journal of a man who was active in the founding of Nevada City:

October 5, 1850—That afternoon a deputation of miners from below us on the creek came to the claim and notified us we must quit. The mud we were sending down the stream buried them under slumgullion, the water was so thick they could not use it in their rockers. (Note.—This is the first record of the raising of the anti—debris question.)

October 19, 1850—Anderson (the writer's "pard") says it will be a good idea to extend our ditch and sell the water to the miners who might want to use it, but I don't see what right we have got to it more than anybody else. Anyway, he has put a notice at the head of the ditch claiming all the water it will hold. (Note.—The first claim to water rights on record in Nevada county.)

October 25, 1850—We had a meeting of the miners at our place yesterday afternoon to decide in regard to ditch and water rights, and it was a hot one. Some of them claimed that water was as free as air and no one had a right to monopolize it, and they would have carried the day, but Anderson proposed as a compromise that all interested should pitch in and build a ditch on shares. We give our ditch to the company and have a one-sixth interest in the extension.

November 3, 1850—A minister preached in the United State Hotel dining room and the place was filled but there were only three women in the crowd. He took up a collection and raked in four hundred dollars. That is as good as mining and not as hard work. Our minister in Norfolk would be satisfied with that much for a year.

I asked for my little Frenchwoman and they told me she was dealing over at Centerville. (Note—The Grass Valley of today was first called Centerville because it was midway between the two more important mining towns of Rough and Ready and Nevada City.)

American Heroines

By LOUISE M. COMSTOCK

Pocahontas

OUR first American heroine was not a white girl, but an Indian, and she is buried, not near Jamestown, Va., with which are associated her deeds of bravery, but in England, in an alien land, among a people who must have seemed to her very strange. The register of St. George's church, Gravesend, contains this record: "Here Rebecca Wrolf, wyffe of Thomas (John) Wrolf, gent., a Virginia lady borne, was buried in the chaunsell, 1617."

In the history books Rebecca Wrolf is Pocahontas, lovely daughter of Powhatan, big chief of the Virginia Indians, who played an important part in the establishment of the first English settlement in this country. In 1607 a small band of colonists settled on the James River, at a spot they called Jamestown in honor of their king. It was an unfortunate location. The swamps spread disease and grew little food, and the dense forests pressed upon the little colony and made it easy prey for attacking Indians. Without the friendship of Pocahontas, Jamestown might never have survived the first hard years.

Capt. John Smith, leader of the colony, managed to secure the good-will of Powhatan and promises of corn. But Powhatan was a big and temperamental chief, liable to change of mind. Once he held the doughty captain prisoner and was determined to have his brains beaten out with stout war clubs. And time and again Pocahontas, at the risk of her father's anger, of her tribe's ill-will, even of her own life, proved her friendship for the white man. When provisions ran low she brought grain from her father's supply; when treacherous ambuscade was planned, she gave warning; and as Captain Smith lay with his head on a pillow of rock, awaiting his death, Pocahontas rushed between him and the threatening war club and saved his life.

MINE DEVELOPMENT

ed. Auxiliary pumping equipment and the remains of the old Cornish pump used before the shaft was allowed to flood, were removed last week, preparatory to starting exploration work on the various levels. President W. McNear, E. A. Wiltsee, Errol MacBoyle ,Charles Brockington and other officials made an inspection of the unwatered shaft.

LAVA CAP DEVELOPMENT

Sinking operations at the Lava Cap mine, south east of Nevada City, have now reached a depth of 735 feet after cutting a station at the 600 foot level. The objective in this shaft is the 1,000 foot level.

Excavations are now being made for the new double drum hoist and air compressor which are to be installed next month.

Plans are being made for the 200 ton mill that will be under construction by the middle of next month.

HOGE SHAFT NEARS GOAL

At the Hoge Development property north east of Nevada City the management is sinking from the 800 to the 1,000 foot level and have nearly reached the objective.

A stringer of good looking ore was encountered in the shaft last Tuesday, which is evidently a new vein, the assays from which haven't been received as yet.

A program of diamond drilling has been inaugurated at the Hoge Development company property and it is hoped this will further disclose ore bodies and parallel veins near the existing ones.

GOLDEN GATE

Under the managership of Harry James another mining property, shut down for many years ,is being reopened, within the last few days. James worked in the poperty as a younger man, before he became a salesman for mining machinery in the Mother Lode territory. He feels satisfied he will meet with success.

This property is known as the Golden Gate mine, located north of the now famous Idaho-Maryland and east of the Spring Hill mine. Mr. James has a small crew of men at work in the old shaft.

IDAHO-MARYLAND

At the Idaho-Maryland property, east of Grass Valley, work is progressing at a splendid rate in production and development. Fourteen men have been added to the large force of men within the month, the last record showing 211 men employed. Bert Crase is superintendent and Errol MacBoyle, general manager.

YOU BET CLOSES

The You Bet Mining Company is closing its gold recovery operations for this season, during which it handled approximately 3,000 yards of gravel a day, according to the president and general manager, Ogden C. Chase.

The season for mine operations close when the irrigation season commences as the hydraulicking makes the water sold unfit for irrigation purposes.

Arrangements are being made for construction of a debris dam to impound tailings in Steep Hollow and to construct and enlarge ditches and flumes to increase the water supply to 3,000 miner's inches.

The present supply is 1,000 inches.

The company's water rights include all the water from Steep Hollow and the south fork of Green River. The water now being used is from the English ditch. The company owns the English ditch, 15 miles long, and the Irish ditch, 20 miles long, both served by Steep Hollow; and the Staler ditch, five miles long, served by the south fork of the Green River.

This property comprises a large acreage of gravel and should yield a rich return if it holds up to past production records of that district.

EXPLORATION ON KENNY TRACT

An exploration shaft is being sunk on the Kenny tract, west of Grass Valley and formerly known as the Manion tract.

The Cooley Butter interests of Los Angeles, who operate the Golden Center mine in Grass Valley, own the property.

RUBY GRAVEL MINE

Development of the Rubq gravel mine, near Forest, is being actively carried forward by the Sierra Pacific Gold ,Ltd.

The mine was only recently reopened after being closed all winter and the management now plans to start steady production. Late last fall a large consignment of mchinery was taken to the mine and installed.

The Ruby mine is one of the histirs properties of the Forest area and has a past produtcion record of several millions.

DELHI PROPERTY

Louis Monneman, part owner of the Delhi mine north of Nevada City came up from San Francisco recently and has employed eight men in cleaning out the old shaft and will open veins in the mine. A tramway is to be built to carry ore to lower levels, and a three mile electric line is to be run to the property.

ZEIBRIGHT MINE

E. W. Bennett, of Grass Valley, is in charge of the driving of a new tunnel at the Zeibright mine in Bear Valley. Old workings were recently cleaned out and the mill is to be reconditioned shortly. A large tonnage of low grade ore was revealed in the old workings. The Newmont Mining Corporation recently took over the property.

SOUTH STAR

The South Star mine, near Grass Valley, is being opened by C. T. Eastman of San Francisco, as the South Star Mining Company. R. J. Polk, superintendent, has a small crew of men cleaning out one of the old shafts.

WEST POINT MINE

E. R. Hamilton and son, Jerry, of Grass Valley, are making fair returns in mining a 30 inch ledge in a 30 foot winze, which was sunk at the end of a 750 foot tunnel. The ore is being milled at the Queen Lil mill at Nevada City.

CYCLONE MINE

P. C. Peterson and son, Elmer, are running a 250 foot bedrock tunnel at the Cyclone mine north of Nevada City. They recently installed a compressor and other mining machinery. Allen B. Clark and others of Los Angeles have a lease on the property.

PHOENIX GOLD MINE

The Phoenix mine, south of Grass Valley ,is sinking in the main shaft and drifting on the vein.

RELIEF HILL GRAVEL MINE

The Relief Hill gravel mine at Relief Hill is completing its clean-up after several weeks of hydraulicking operations. A crew of five men are finishing up and putting the property in shape for a longer run next year.

CALIFORNIA CONSOLIDATED

There are nine men employed at the California Consolidated Mines, in the Willow Valley district, east of Nevada City. The men are engaged in cleaning out the shaft of the old Federal Loan mine and when completed they plan to develop the ore bodies on the different levels.

REMINGTON HILL GOLD MINES

Steady progress is being made at the Remington Hill Gold Mines in Steep Hollow, east of Nevada City where plans are mapped out to put the property on a production basis.

President F. A. Boyce and Frank A. Crampton, engineer and secretary, recently purchased surface machinery in Los Angeles.

At present there is a small crew employed at the property ground sluicing and Boyce and Crampton are devoting their entire time to the development of this promising property.

SCOTTS FLAT DEVELOPMENT CO.

The Scotts Flat Development Co. have three men busily engaged in sampling the gold bearing gravel. Their plans are as before. If the samles hold up, a dredger will be placed above Scotts Flat dam and the gravel will be handled on a large scale.

EAGLE BIRD MINE

The Eagle Bird mine, near the Spanish mine in the Washington district east of Nevada City, has a crew of 10 men busily engaged in reopening the property. I. W. Still is superintendent.

SPRING HILL

FRENCH CORRAL GRAVEL

The French Corral Minin Company has installed a compressor and drills on its gravel property north west of Nevada City and have also purchased a complete gold recovery plant. The company is using gasoline to generate power at present but as work progresses it is expected that electricity will be brought to the property.

The gravel deposits are said to be among the most promising in Nevada county. They were worked intermittenly for many years.

The management is well satisfied with the property. It has demonstrated the presence of large deposits of ancient channel gravel. Steady production in the near future is expected.

LUMBER TALKS

HOME O'DREAMS

We have Lumber for your uses—
Siding, Flooring, Joists and Beams;
Everything to build a dwelling
That you'll call your Home O' Dreams.
But take heed when you are planning,
For good temper always fails,
When the builder buys his Lumber
And forgets to purchase nails.

You will need a firm Foundation—
We have timbers for that too,
And a stock of Inside Finish
That will make a hit with you
We have Wallboard, Paint and Hardware,
And a covering for the Roof,
In our fine selected Shingles
That will make it weather-proof.

When the Home O'Dreams is finished,
Got a Trellis for the lawn,
And some comfy Chairs and Benches
For your friends to sit upon.
O, there's nothing half so precious
Where the mellow sunlight gleams,
As a Home that you have builded—
As a little Home O'Dreams.
—A. M. C.

HUSBAND SENTENCED ON WIFE'S COMPLAINT

Mrs. Will Stewart, who resides with her husband on the lower Grass Valley road in the southern part of Nevada City, swore to a complaint this week charging her husband with battery.

The case came up before Judge W. L. Mobley Thursday and he found him guilty. He sentenced Stewart to six months in the county jail, but suspended the sentence on condition that he keep the peace.

EXCELSIOR GRAVEL MINE TO BE REOPENED

W. Graham, who lost his tunnel of several hundred feet last winter during the time the N. I. D. ditch was clogged with snow and ice, has taken a lease on the Excelsior Mining Comany ground, and at present has an 80 foot shaft sunk.

He expects to strike bedrock at 100 feet and work the rich old Manzanita channel. There are about 60 acres in the property.

This old property was worked in the 80's and the large crew of men who were hydraulicking into the mountain all left the immense cavern at noon to come to Nevada City to vote. They had been gone but a few minutes when practically the side of the mountain fell in covering the tools and mining equipment. The immense cavern can be seen from parts of this city. It is only a half mile from town.

The channel produced heavily in the early days, but it was felt that it was too expensive to reopen the property without the use of water, and in the early days there were plenty of other properties yielding gold without going to such expense.

Mr. Graham has three men working with him.
